INSIDE:

MISSING MILLBROOK BOGS

Who wants to buy a £5,000 statue for the Town Hall?

MILLBROOK BOGS WRECKED

One morning, MRS. CHORLTON of 5 OXFORD STREET, MILLBROOK, woke up to find her outside loo had disappeared. Naturally, she was distressed!
Later, however, she found out that she was not alone: someone had destroyed all the outside toilets at the rear of OXFORD STREET.
MRS. CHORLTON's problems began in July 1980, when builder JOHN LINDEN WALTON started improvement work on the house next door. At the time, MRS. CHORLTON was away on holiday.
When she returned, part of her roof had been removed and rain had poured into her rear bed-room.
During the next few weeks the wallpaper began to peel off and green mould sprouted.
Although WALTON had given his address as 45 GRAFTON STREET, STALYBRIDGE, he proved elusive. After he had received letters from ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH OFFICER MRS. FALMER. and MRS. CHORLTON's solicitors he finally turned up to complete the job. It was approved by a TAMESIDE Inspector.
Months later, the problems returned - but the effect was even worse than before. A letter from MRS. CHORLTON's solicitor claiming damages off WALTON, came back marked "GONE AWAY".
Since then she has not been able to track down the man who has wrecked her home.

EATING OUT

If the WERNETH LOW COUNTRY PARK RESTAURANT isn't doing so well, (as reported in EYE 37), it's not for want of MAYORAL support.
For this year, on 16th February, you could have found - sat at the would-be upper crust cafe's Table 3- a local CIVIC DIGNITARY and three companions tucking into Trout, Prawn Cocktail, Beaujolais and Brandies.
All for a mere £46.25 on the rates.
Still, one of the RESTAURANT's Directors - COLIN WAGSTAFF of GAMBREL GROVE in HURST - has just been made an ASHTON J.P.
Perhaps they'll be able to attract a better class of clientele in future?

Ghoulish

BRYAN CHADDERTON, the arrogant and unpleasant EDITOR of THE ADVERTISER, turned up to cover a recent Inquest and breathlessly told anyone who'd listen: " This is the first time I've been out of the office for ages".
In fact, you will have noticed that BRYAN likes nothing better than a good inquest to fill his squalid pages. Never mind the feelings of family and friends about the people they've lost, BRYAN couldn't care a damn, just so long as he can fill the gaps between adverts with headlines like "DOUBLE DEATH HORROR SMASH" and "CHOKED TO DEATH ON TRIPE" - two recent examples of his utter insensitivity.

OH MY GOD!

A fervent ASHTON Christian DEREK RUTTER has been waging his own Holy War, through the pages of The Reporter. But EYE can report that, so far, the Godless are winning.
Alert EYE readers will have spotted two letters in The REPORTER last month from one DEREK RUTTER.
Their apocalyptic tone was puzzling to say the least. RUTTER appealed urgently for god-fearing Labourites "to strengthen Christian representation within TAMESIDE LABOUR PARTY." He claimed he wanted to "combat the atheistical intolerance" of the MILITANT TENDENCY.
But what he really wanted was votes.
And he didn't succeed.
For DEREK RUTTER has had his nomination to the "panel" of next May's possible LABOUT COUNCIL hopefuls turned down flat by ASHTON CONSTITUENCY LABOUR PARTY, who took a very dim view of his letter-writing abilities.
Ironically, it was a MILITANT member who recently got DEREK to renew his lapsed Party membership!

A statement of beliefs

Sir — In relation to my letter, I inadvertently appear to have misled a number of people. Therefore I ask Postbox to allow me to nail my colours to the mast.

I, as a Christian Socialist hold out the hand of friendship and love to people of all religions, all races, all cultures and to each and every individual.

I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, the teachings of the Lord Jesus Christ, unity in the Lord Jesus Christ, a Christian Socialist society, peace and love, Earth preservation.

I am not good. Church is like a hospital for the sinful and I go, quite often, for medical attention. Only God is good. — Yours etc.,

DEREK RUTTER
2 Pavilion Drive
Ashton

And, apparently, DEREK used to buy MILITANT's paper and contribute to their funds.
The last word must go to DEREK himself. In his second letter he said:
" I am not good. Church is like a Hospital for the sinful and I go, quite often, for medical attention."
Quite so.

New brooms

MR. GICK, TAMESIDE HOSPITAL's boss, is not pleased with the change of mood in the patients' watch-dog committee, TAMESIDE COMMUNITY HEALTH COUNCIL. At the last meeting of the CHC, MR. GICK got very frosty when the new upstarts demanded to go on evening tours of HOSPITAL facilities in order to actually meet real patients. GICK, who has come to expect a quiet time from the CHC, has successfully kept previous CHC Tours as far away from patients as possible. Kitchens are fine, wards are not. He insisted he must receive a "formal request".
He went on to refuse to divulge plans for patient care after the Bomb's dropped. Meanwhile KATHLEEN GRUNDY, ex-Chairman, has been returned to the back benches as an ordinary member. Her TORY friends, JUDITH BYLE and MRS. CHOULARTON have resigned in a huff.

Obstacles

Local shop-keeper BILL WALSH phoned EYE about the regular visits from officials of TAMESIDE ENGINEERS DEPT. to KING STREET in DUKINFIELD. They told the angry shop-keepers to remove their advertising signs from the pavements outside their shops.
One official alleged they are an "obstruction to pedestrians", and JACKSONs FRUIT & VEGETABLE STORE were warned about their plastic litter bin. When EYE rang them, the DEPT. said they had no record of any actual complaint.
FRANK LOARING of the TAMESIDE BLIND ASSOCIATION, who are also on KING ST., said these signs are hazardous for blind people and felt that there had been an increasing number of them displayed. But his ASSOCIATION hadn't made any official complaint against them.

Absentee

ROBERT SHELDON, ASHTON's absentee M.P., has got better things to do than waste his time attending an important HOUSE OF COMMONS debate on the NHS and the current bitter pay dispute. Even when STALYBRIDGE & HYDE's M.P. TOM PENDRY is in there hammering the TORY Health Minister, NORMAN FOWLER, with a "major speech".
No, DIDSBURY BOB much prefers to read up debates as they are printed in "HANSARD" - parliament's minutes book.
This was BOB's reply to his constituency critics who had accused him of not supporting the Health Workers. Still, it's unlikely our BOB will have to call on the services of TAMESIDE GENERAL in the near future - he's never here.

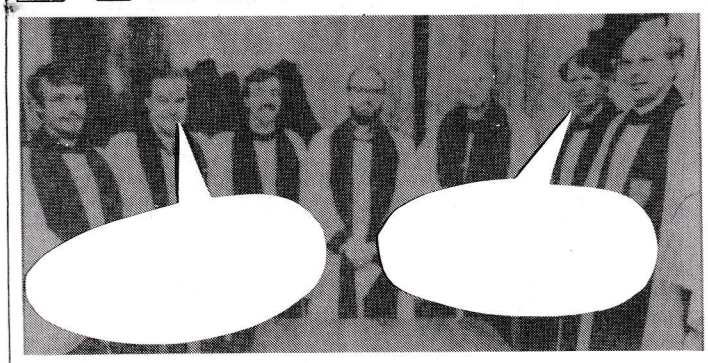
Insulated

COSYWORLD INSULATION LTD have won the job of insulating 712 council homes in SMALLSHAW, ASHTON, with a contract worth over £36,000.
This is just five months after EYE reported that COSYWORLD were taking deposits on council insulation jobs, before they were approved council contractors.
Evidently their pushy approach has paid off handsomely.

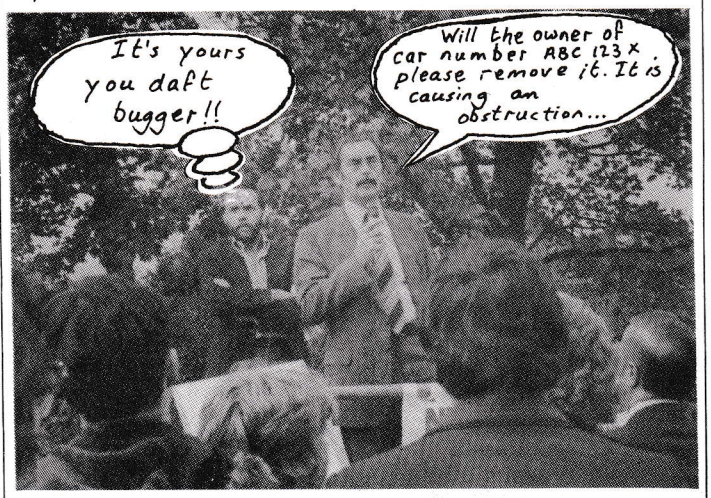
Illegal

MANCHESTER HOUSING DEPT. to whom many COUNCIL tenants living in the area pay their rent, seem to have cocked it up again. This time it's the latest Tenancy Agreement they've produced. Legal eagles reckon that the Clause insisting that the tenants pay for any broken windows or panes of glass is illegal!
EYE understands that MANCHESTER HOUSING are now making a profit out of the HAUGHTON GREEN estate and are about evens up at HATTERSLEY. Many tenants feel it's about time they had something back in return.

BUBBLES!



A collection of clerics form this month's Bubbles puzzle. Simply suggest a script for this godly gathering and win yourself a years free TAMESIDE EYE.



Winner of last month's BUBBLES is 'Dave' of MILLBROOK, who forgot to give us his address. We can see why Dave! If you write in with your address, we will arrange to send you, under brown cover, your fre TAMESIDE EYE, and a badge.

Booze up 35%

MARK HUNTER, DROYLSDEN's other Liberal Councillor says this year's MAYORAL INSTALLATION piss-up cost £1420.30 a 35% rise on last year! We've heard of inflation, but this takes some beating. Last year, as reported in EYE 38, it'only' cost £1051. to install the MAYOR. One of the reasons for the rise was the ever-popular WALLY MACKENZIE ORCHESTRA. Their fee went up from £140 to £170.
Another reason could be that this year's MAYOR PHIL WARNE, has a greater capacity than previous occupants of the MAYORAL throne.

Mobile Miller

MRS. SYLVIA MILLER, owner of SOVEREIGN HALL CARAVAN SITE in MOSSLEY (see EYE 37), is planning to desert disgruntled residents.
Since 1979, occupiers have witheld payment of a rent increase in the hope of receiving their long-awaited tenancy agreements which MILLER should have provided by law.
The residents have now contacted their solicitors and Mobile MILLER has gone South - she's instructed FOX, the Estate Agents of 32 Cathedral Yard, EXETER, to sell off the site.
The asking price is about £56,000,only a slight rise on the £26,000 that MILLER is said to have paid for the site.

Wriggling Robert

For the third time, MOSSLEY businessman and self-styled environmental ist ROBERT WRIGLEY has been refused permission to build a dormer-extension over his neighbours Stamford St. property. Tameside Planning Committee have turned down WRIGLEY's plans to erect a tarted-up version of the dormers he says he has just spent £20,000 taking down!

Redundancies

Meanwhile, the other half of the development, in Arundel St., is still there, weeks after the demolition deadline set by the Dept., of the Environment Inspector earlier this year.
WRIGLEY claims that if he has to remove the Arundel St. dormers he will be forced to make some of his staff redundant. According to a recent advert for a panel beater to work at WRIGLEY's MOTORS, Robert prefers his workforce to be self-employed. Its a useful dodge for employers. They avoid paying National Insurance contributions, dont have to bother with P.A.Y.E. and most important, theres no problem over redundancies.

Liquidation

WRIGLEY's front man and company secretary ALAN MATTHEWS recently denied rumours that the ramshackle WRIGLEY group was in financial difficulties. These rumours arose from the liquidation of "ROBERT WRIGLEY LTD" in July this year. (Revealed exclusively in EYE 35), and there are more signs that ROBERT may be feeling the pinch.

Football Club ripped off

First, there is the matter of the annual charge owed to MOSSLEY football club for the enormous WRIGLEY's advertising hoarding that donimates the Seel Park Ground. WRIGLEY claims that since the companies in the ad. are in liquidation he doesn't have to pay the £300+ he owes.
Neat!
We've also noticed that WRIGLEY's decrepit fleet of stone-cleaning vehicles have been regularly driven using the Trade Number plates from WRIGLEY's MOTORS!
Saves on tax and insurance and it must also be quite a saving when you can do your own M.O.T. tests!

Bentley for Sale

But when we saw that ROBERT's personalised Bentley (RW 896) was for sale, a snip at £7,500, we knew he had hit the bottom. We can only hope that the ex-Mrs. WRIGLEY is having no trouble getting her maintenance money.

CRUSADE FOR CASH

What exactly was the HANS KOORNSTRA MIRACLE CRUSADE - held in HYDE TOWN HALL recently - all about? Certainly the ads on the sides of the buses were giving nothing away. EYE sent an intrepid hack miracle-spotting...

The place was packed out. Dutchman HANS KOORNSTRA leapt energetically to the front of the stage. After the songs had been sung and the tambourines bashed, he got straight to the point.
He wanted our cash or, preferably, cheques.
And those present seemed more than willing to part with their money.
At great length, HANS KOORNSTRA explained how he was determined to sort out the heathen BELGIANS, most of whom are silly superstitious CATHOLICS. With only a quarter of the population (in BELGIUM, that is) good God-fearing PROTESTANTS, the place was "a dark country".
Murmurs of assent were heard round the hall.
He, HANS KOORNSTRA, wanted our money for a special project.
He wants to build a cafe on the BRUSSELS to ANTWERP motorway. A sort of spiritual lay-by.
Right on.

And, would you believe it, by some miracle or divine guidance or what have you, the price for the plot of land he had "laid claim to" had come tumbling on down.
From £400,000 to a mere £180,000.
A miracle!
And, by the way, about those cheques.
Please make them out to me, HANS KOORNSTRA.
Who else?
After the collection (at least £500) we were then treated to a harangue against naughty old MR. CHARLES DARWIN, who had put about the evil idea that we're all descended from the apes.
At this point your long-suffering hack quietly slipped out.
The only miracle he'd seen that night was the sight of so much money changing hands so rapidly - in aid of a BELGIAN motorway cafe.
HANS KOORNSTRA's show was booked by the PASTOR TERRY HANDFORD of DENTON. He runs the "LIFELINE MINISTRY" from CARMEL PENTECOSTAL CHURCH. It sends out the Lord's word by telephone, tape, video, cassette and radio. Our picture shows the happy PASTOR giving thanks for his Bank Statement.*

IS IT ART?

Will HENRY MOORE become an official TAMESIDE Contractor?

Rumours abound that our high-brow priestess of culture from NEWTON, Cllr. SYLVIA SWIFFIN, wants to erect a £5,000 statue in the wide open spaces at the bottom of The Dustbin, in the entrance.

The story goes that in her perpetual endeavour to bring art to the masses, SYLVIA had already got the ARTS COUNCIL of GREAT BRITAIN to dip in their pocket, and had managed to slip a request for cash on to the Agenda of the LIBRARIES & ARTS COMMITTEE. A furious leader, ROY OLDHAM, is said to have had the offending item removed, pronto!

He could see the headlines, even before they were written:-

" IS IT ART? "; " COUNCIL TO SPEND THOUSANDS ON MARBLES "; " £5,000 BRONZE THING WON'T FIT THROUGH DOOR "; and so on.

"I am a Tameside Leech!"

DR. WILLIAM GOLDTHORP, the the TAMESIDE HOSPITAL Consultant featured in last month's "Leeches" article, was so chuffed at seeing his name on these pages, that he is said to have celebrated by having a T-shirt emblazoned with:

"I AM A TAMESIDE LEECH"

Evidently DR.GOLDTHORP unashamedly agrees with our assessment of the likely impact of his TAMESIDE PRIVATE MEDICAL CENTRE on the local Health Services.

But we did receive some angry 'phone-calls from EYE readers anxious to assure us that the good Doctors who own the CENTRE are all competent and had treated their various ailments well. "FRED OLIVER" one caller confided "has been amongst lepers: I thought your piece was most unfair".

But our article passed no comment on these gentlemen's medical capabilities. EYE merely informed readers how and where they practice.

THE PRICE OF DEMOCRACY

LAST MONTH EYE PRINTED ITS ANNUAL SURVEY OF COUNCILLORS' EXPENSES. SOME COUNCILLORS COULDN'T CARE LESS; OTHERS FUMED. BUT SOME ACTUALLY TOOK UP OUR CHALLENGE TO STATE THEIR OWN VIEWS IN PUBLIC.

TUPPENNY COUNCILS

COUNCILLORS JIMMY EASON and PHIL TOMLINSON are Labour Whips, whose job it is to make sure the others all behave themselves and turn up to vote the right way.
They wanted to point out that ATTENDANCE ALLOWANCE can only be claimed for certain 'approved' COUNCIL business, such as Committees. All the other work COUNCILLORS do, such as sorting out voters' problems or attending Health Authority or School Governors meetings, is unpaid.
For hourly-paid COUNCILLORS the ALLOWANCE is vital as they invariably get nothing from their employer for time off.
But PHIL TOMLINSON had very "mixed feelings" about the prospect of full-time paid COUNCIL members. He admitted however that the "days of Tuppenny Councils are over" and that they had a problem taming a £100 million plus BOROUGH like TAMESIDE.
In the light of these huge sums that the COUNCIL now spends, he argued, " Isn't £40,652 a small price to pay for democracy?"

Perhaps it is too small a price to pay. Some elected members feel it is so small a sum that they have great difficulty exercising control over the COUNCIL's policies.
ASHTON COUNCILLOR, GLYN FORD, the Labour EDUCATION CHAIRMAN, feels this is the job they should be doing - and he went on to accuse the EYE of not taking the matter seriously enough!
"I'm lucky - I don't lose pay at work", he told EYE. "But I have to make up for time lost doing COUNCIL business by staying up late at night finishing off my work". Other COUNCILLORS, he added, have serious difficulties maintaining their income.

SERIOUS

GLYN FORD came down in favour of full-time paid COUNCILLORS, but he was against all of them having to be paid. Any element of compulsion would put off people who wanted to keep their job or who had a career. But, as with M.P.s, the difficulties were enormous. "Safe" wards could (literally) become treasured possessions and therefore the battleground for useless in-fighting. If the rate of pay was set too low, the "quality" of COUNCIL candidates would be poor; if it was set too high, would the candidates be only in it for the money?

ALTERNATIVES:

1.Even more Councillors?

Before TAMESIDE was created, ASHTON had 35 COUNCILLORS; after the local government "re-organisation" in 1974, the number was drastically reduced to 12. Now, with a population of 217,000 , TAMESIDE has a mere 57 COUNCILLORS. If there were more of them, their work-load could be reduced.

2.Political advisors?

But GLYN FORD, accompanied by Labour Leader ROY OLDHAM, put forward a more far-reaching proposal: senior COUNCILLORS should be able to appoint, on short-term contracts, political advisers and researchers.
They would do all the donkey-work of keeping their politician bosses abreast with the latest developments and the information they need to make decisions.
To be effective, these political appointees would have to be allowed access to COUNCIL Officers, from CHIEF EXECUTIVE DAVID SPIERS downwards.
GLYN FORD felt this would be a great improvement.
PHIL TOMLINSON said it was a "huge step to take", and was worried it might be unpopular...

BAD TASTE

COUNCILLOR PAUL SMITH, the Labour member for GODLEY WARD in HYDE, wrote us a letter. When he's not on COUNCIL business, he works at his small furniture recoverung and refurnishing outfit on MARKET STREET, HYDE:-

DEAR EYE,

I think that anybody who has to discuss their income in public does so with the greatest reluctance and embarassment. Councillors, as members of the public, should be allowed the same privacy as any other human being. Having said that, the figures you quoted on members attendance allowance in last month's EYE do not tally with actual monies received. My quoted figure of £1915 is nowhere near the gross figure of £998 which I received, less tax of £299.40 - £698.60 nett. which works out at an amount of £12.50 per week. On average I put in at least two days a week on council business to the detriment of my own work and income. If you and the general public think that this replacememt of income and overheads is exhorbitant, then I will be very surprised indeed.

Yours etc.

CLLR. R.H. PAUL SMITH

P.S. I consider it very poor taste for TAMESIDE EYE to publish the figures attributed to a member of the council who is now deceased,namely GEORGE NEWTON.

EYE REPLY: The figures we quoted were correct, but they weren't just for attendance allowance, they included Councillors travelling expenses too. This was stated qyite clearly at the top of the list of expenses.

Feeling glum? ...miserable?...bored?

Don't keep it all to yourself... spread it around!

Send someone else TAMESIDE EYE! Just £6 and we'll mail your friend/relative/enemy a copy every month for a year. As a special service the first copy will contain a message of your choice.*

RYECOFT ENGINEERING

ShortTime

Workers at RYECROFT ENGINEERING in ASHTON have been put on short time. Angry callers to EYE have pointed out that the four DIRECTORS haven't given themselves the same treatment! In January EYE reported that the BARBER family paid themselves a huge £116,000 whilst their 60 workers got only £283,685 between them in 1980/81.

G.M.P.T.E.

Speculation

Next time you're waiting for a bus or paying the exorbitant fare, just remember that GREATER MANCHESTER TRANSPORT are trying hard to look after your interests. Yes, GMT are busy speculating in STOCKS & SHARES on your behalf.
For this go-ahead BUS operator holds almost 13% of tour operator HORIZON TRAVEL's shares. And the other day GMT sold a few of them to make a quick buck. A GMT spokesman is quoted as saying:"The shares were at a good price and it seemed opportune to take a modest profit".

Job Losses

In the first 8 months of this year the MANPOWER SERVICES COMMISSION was told by Employers about 44,649 redundancies in the NORTH WEST of ENGLAND, with a further 11,361 in the pipeline. Of these job losses, 1061 were in TAMESIDE. During the same period last year, there were 3,121 thrown on the dole off jobs available within the BOROUGH.
But these figures are only the ones that the Government is told about.

NORTH WEST WATER

Protest Solid

AUDENSHAW WATER DEPOT manual workers were almost 100% behind the one day National stoppage which took place on October 18th to show negotiators the strength of feeling behind their current pay claim. A strong picket was mounted, but some NALGO members on the staff side still went in.
It appears that the NALGO Branch Secretary, PAUL GAGE, instructed his members to cross the picket line to go and do their own work. Yet NALGO's boss, GENERAL SECRETARY GEOFFREY DRAIN had instructed them not to cross offical picket lines. Those NALGO members who did go into work still had to leave their cars out on the main road and walk under the barrier. Relations between local NUPE and NALGO members are now said to be cool.

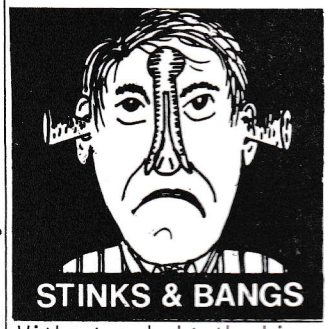
C.Y.W.U.

Recognition

TAMESIDE COUNCIL's Labour administration pride themselves on good union and employer relations. But one group of employees are finding this only seems to apply to the big unions...

The COMMUNITY & YOUTH WORKERS UNION (CYWU) application for official recognition by TAMESIDE COUNCIL will be heard at the next PERSONNEL COMMITTEE. So far they've met with COUNCILLORS' apathy and stone-walling by Officers. This opposition has been fuelled by the insistence of MIKE RAWCLIFFE, NUPE full-timer, that the CYWU is an unneccessary splinter-group that will weaken union power.
Yet TAMESIDE already recognises the National body that negotiates CYWU members' pay and conditions. On the union side of this Negotiating Committee the CYWU is in the majority, whilst NUPE isn't even on it.
Locally the CYWU are concerned about the YOUTH & COMMUNITY DEPT. One of its URBAN AID schemes takes on unemployed people to do Youth Work, but only gives them a one year contract.

SOMETHING going on you'ld like us to know about? Ring 366 0382.



Without a doubt the biggest stink & bang was caused by old favourite BOWER GRINDING LIMITED at their smelly VALE MILL premises in MOSSLEY. Not long after TAMESIDE PLANNING COMMITTEE refused to give them permission to store waste rubber in another building, the whole lot went up in smoke one Saturday night in the firm's yard. Meanwhile the stink was reported yet again to the COUNCIL by local residents.
But investigating bangs is not all such fun as this. POLLUTION CONTROL OFFICERS have had to visit DISCOS at the BROADOAK HOTEL in ASHTON and the BUCKTON CASTLE in CARRBROOK, following complaints about noise. Hopefully they get paid extra for these "night visits", as they are known. Meanwhile FINE FARE HYPEMARKET in HYDE have been wafting petrol fumes over the breakfast of nearby residents in BROOK STREET, every morning for several years, and are being investigated.
No stinkers list would be complete without the inevitable complaint about SENIOR SERVICE whose stale tobacco "odour" makes that part of NEWTON smell like an old pub ash-tray. This month they were joined by old stinkers WOLFENDEN CARRIERS LIMITED of DROYLSDEN, who had been smoking out that end of the Borough.
One newcomer to this column is a paint-spraying operation in a garage on CLOCKHOUSE AVENUE in DROYLSDEN, who was pursued fearlessly at COUNCIL by the new Liberal CLLr. CAROLINE JOHNSON. She demanded to know what this blot on the landscape was doing in a residential area. We say it's a fine example of the private enterprise this country so sorely needs to get us all back on our feet.

Finally, it's interesting to note that there are two complaints this month about noise from religious establishments. But it's strange,isn't it,that both complaints are about Asian buildings - one the JACKSON STREET MOSQUE in HYDE and the other the INDIAN COMMUNITY CENTRE in ASHTON. EYE spoke to one local resident who lives next door to one of these establishments - he said he'd never heard any noise, let alone one that disturbed him. We look forward to a complaint from some bigot about the noise from the wedding bells at their local C. of E.

TAMESIDE COMMUNIST PARTY

Exit Swiffin

You read it in the EYE first. In june, we predicted Cllr. SYLVIA SWIFFIN was on the way out. Well, it's now official. NEWTON's leading persecutor of motorbikers has failed to be nominated to stand as a Labour candidate in next May's elections. Good news indeed, especially for the man she loves to hate, "fellow" Cllr. PETER BAILEY. On hearing of SWIFFIN's departure, BAILEY was heard wondering "What are TAMESIDE EYE going to find to write about me, now she's gone?"
We're working on it, PETER.

Car thrown

JOHN BELL, the GEE CROSS TORY COUNCILLOR, is an endless source of entertainment. In the middle of a debate on who should be the COUNCIL's Banker, JOHN declared: "I wouldn't have a LADA car thrown at me!" We sincerely hope not,JOHN; it's a terrible way to go. Earlier, however, JOHN said he hoped that the Libraries VIDEO scheme was 'doomed to failure'. His reason? Because they would be competing with local video shops. Clearly JOHN hasn't heard the message from LONDON, where The Boss says she's trying to foster a spirit of enterprise and competition!

Place your bets

Who's going to be next year's MAYOR then? EYE's tip is ASHTON Cllr. LENA EASON. But for the punters amongst you, we'd advise she's not a safe bet. Some COUNCILLORS think it's out of order to be lobbying for the position when the present MAYOR, Cllr. PHIL "Sit-down-and-shut-up" WARNE, has still got 6 months to go.

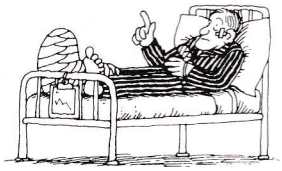
God+Nukes=True

FULL COUNCIL's major political event these days is the prayer session conducted by the MAYOR's CHAPLAIN. In October we were treated to a prayer that Nuclear Energy will be used for our benefit - rather than our destruction.
But was the CHAPLAIN asked to put in a Good Word for nukes by our Leader, Cllr. ROY OLDHAM? For ROY is employed by BRITISH NUCLEAR FUELS LIMITED.
All this must have left Cllr. GLYN FORD fuming,for the EDUCATION CHAIRMAN reckons nuclear power is a dangerous anti-socialist nightmare run by a small bunch of unaccountable technocrats.
In fact, given the ease with which lethal radioactive filth spewed out at WINDSCALE and THREE MILE ISLAND - to name but two nuclear power disasters - the CHAPLAIN's prayers were leading him straight into a political minefield.

Stout fellow

BILL WILKINSON, ASHTON's conservative Labour COUNCILLOR, declared in COUNCIL that he'd been ignorant - of what was going on in the Borough's YOUTH & COMMUNITY CENTRES. Until, that is, he was taken on a Tour of them by the YOUTH & COMMUNITY DEPT. Now he feels they're not being adequately supported by the COUNCIL. He was especially impressed by the HATTERSLEY GRAND CANYON PROJECT, where unemployed young people and adults are converting an underground car park into their own centre. They have just been voted £6,000 by the EDUCATION COMMITTEE, amid much fuss from Officers Well, we've called BILL in the past, but at least he's prepared to admit his mistakes.

Accidents CAN Happen



What do you do if you have an accident at work? Or in the home? Or while doing the shopping? Or, especially, on the roads. You might be driving or on a bike and go down a pot hole. Or even just walking down the street, you might trip over a paving stone.

If someone else is to blame - your employer. a workmate or colleage, a shopkeeper, or the Highway Authority- you may be able to claim compensation for injuries received, and any damages incurred.

What to do

If your accident was on the roads, take a photograph of the hole you fell in, or the flag you tripped over. Have a 'photo of yourself taken if you've had obvious injuries. Get a tape measure and measure the size of the hole, or the lip of the flag. Itemise any damage done to yourself or your vehicle. Then you must..

Get Advice

If your accident was on the roads, see a solicitor. If it was at work, your Trade Union may help.

The Cost?

You can see a solicitor under the 'Accidents can happen' scheme for nothing. He or she will then tell you if you can get LEGAL AID.
Get a copy of the 'Accidents can happen' leaflet from your nearest Advice Centre or Citizens Advice Bureau, or write to the Liason Officer, Legal Services Committee, The Law Soc., Pall Mall Court, 67 King St., Manchester M60 9 AX.
Tel: 061 832 7112.

Accidents can happen!

- At work
- Out shopping
- In the home
- On the roads . . . if you are a driver, passenger, or pedestrian or if you just trip over a paving stone

Is someone else to blame?

It could be

- Your employer
- A workmate
- Another driver
- Your landlord
- The council
- A shopkeeper or
- A seller of faulty goods

Can I get compensation?

If someone else is to blame, you may get compensation for your injuries, loss of wages, damage to clothing and so on.
A solicitor can advise you whether you have a good case.

Legal Aid

How do I get advice?

Here are a few ways of getting legal advice. Choose the one that suits you best.

- See your solicitor
- If you don't have a solicitor, fill in the coupon on the back of this leaflet for a FREE INTERVIEW with a solicitor. Send it to the address on the coupon. A solicitor will then write to you and suggest an appointment
- If you have had an accident at work, your trade union official may be able to advise you
- Go to your local Citizens Advice Bureau. (The address is in the phone book.) Or go to another local Advice Centre
- If you are kept in hospital, ask to see the Medical Social Worker

What will it cost me?

If you send off the coupon, your first interview with a solicitor will be free. The solicitor will tell you if you can get Legal Aid.
With Legal Aid, a solicitor's help need not be expensive. Many people pay nothing at all for Legal Aid. Whether you get it depends on your income and savings.

FRANCIS DRAKE under full sail.

Youth Ahoy!

Between 15-21 years old? Know someone who is? In the coming year at least 50 places on board an ocean-going yacht are available to local young people, who fancy they've got the stomach for an exhilarating week at sea.

The trips will all be aboard a 72' ketch, the SIR FRANCIS DRAKE, which is run by the OCEAN YOUTH CLUB. The sponsors are the TAMESIDE MARITIME TRUST. In an unique arrangement, the TRUST receives a couple of pence a week each from about 3,400 local members of N.U.P.E. (The National Union of Public Employees). In a full year, this comes to a total donation of about £3,500.

NUPE money

The TRUST was set up with a one-off grant of £25,000 from the council. MIKE RAWCLIFFE, a full time N.U.P.E. official is heavily involved in running the venture. "It's not just about navigating and sailing" he told EYE "Its about young people developing a sense of co-operative responsibility."

With experienced adult sailors on board, the DRAKE sails from its HOLYHEAD base in all weathers. The OCEAN YOUTH CLUB is not interested in the traditional barriers - there's no such thing as 'boys' or 'girls' jobs, and some facilities exist for disabled people.

Although the cost is £100 per berth (for a week) help with the fee is available if you cannot afford that much. But the real question is whether you want to grab the opportunity on offer. Interested? Simply write for more details to:-

If you want to see DRAKE in action switch on the TV to BRIAN REDHEADS "HOME GROUND" programme on Friday 12th Nov. at 10.15. As part of a discussion on unemployment, the ketch - with local unemployed on board - will be seen ploughing the seas of Holyhead.....and there's a possibility that the scheme could even be providing some temporary jobs and re-training. An attempt is being made to set up facilities in SALFORD DOCKS for the DRAKE and the OCEAN YOUTH CLUBs other vessels.*

Phil Jay: FANS FORM CLUB

No apologies for mentioning PHIL JAY again, the AUDENSHAW second-hand car dealer and rip-off artiste extraordinary. This time we can report on the comeuppance he so richly deserves. But it won't be much consolation to the hundreds he's deceived.

Back in May (see EYE 33) we told the tale of PAT MACNAIR, whose firm was owed money by JAY. MACNAIR's lawyer had succeeded in getting the cash (£2,200) lodged in Court, pending another hearing which would decide whether the cash should go to MACNAIR.

Last month, this Court hearing came up. But outside the Court, JAY's lawyer said that PHIL JAY was about to be declared personally bankrupt. MACNAIR agreed to settle out-of-court for £1100 - cash in hand. If he hadn't all of the money would have gone to the Receiver.

Although he's had to pay his own legal costs, MACNAIR is lucky to have got any cash at all. He's certainly more fortunate than a MOSSLEY woman who rang the EYE...

MRS. TURNER bought a car at AUTOBAHN, JAY's old firm, two years ago. After 2,000 miles it packed up on her and hasn't worked since, as it needs £'00s to put it right. Although she won a Court Case against JAY, she's not had a penny from him. She's also ended up paying her own legal fees.

In the meantime she's now lost the job for which she had bought the car - and is still making Hire Purchase Repayments!

If anyone else has a rusting heap in their front yard and would like to get together to tackle JAY, MRS. TURNER would like to hear from them. Telephone MOSSLEY 4581.

Disgusted

DEAR EYE,

I read not with disgust but alarm at the amount spent on ASTRO TURF for the BIN, as it is commonly known. If all council tenants read the EYE I am sure they will be in the same mind as I.

When you consider the amount of council houses waiting for todays standard of living, like central heating and modern kitchens, let alone waiting any length of time for repairs.

Yours,

Disgusted Pensioners.

P.S. About Councillors being paid for their services, 50 in all.

At one time it was an honour to be selected to serve, let alone to be paid.

Offensive

DEAR EYE,

ERIN PIZZEY's book 'Prone to Violence' states that a small number of women return to their violent husbands because they're addicted to violence.

In our experience, the majority of women (84%) who come to refuges do not go back and those who do, return on the understanding that the violence has ended.

The pressures on women to go back are enormous because women face a future of poverty, poor rehousing conditions and isolation of being a single parent. There is very little support financially or socially for women who choose to leave violent men.

There is nothing new about ERIN PIZZEY's attempt to divide battered women into two categories i.e. normal and 'violence prone' We rejected this idea because it only serves to absolve men from their responsibilities for violence against women.

She does not question why men are violent towards women they claim to care about. She has no recognition of unequal power relationships between men/women.

We have seven refuges in Greater Manchester and a Women's Aid Centre based in the City Centre through which we deal with thousands of battered women. Therefore, we know of the uphill struggle they have to achieve a life of peace for themselves and their children, so ERIN PIZZEY's ideas are grossly offensive to them and to all women.

Yours sincerely,

Woodhead danger

DEAR EYE,

The recent disclosure of plans for a feasibility study into the future use of WOODHEAD RAILWAY and TUNNEL as a trunk road between MANCHESTER and SHEFFIELD seems to have had little impact on local politicians, judging from the comments in the GLOSSOP CHRONICLE 24/9/82.

I would be grateful if you would publish some important facts which indicate the potential dangers to this area should this road plan reach fruition.

The recent explosion at the premises of a SALFORD based road haulage firm gives some indication of the lethal freight on our roads today. In this instance 'fall-out' affected an area seven miles wide. Consider then the consequences of a 40 ton juggernaut loaded with such cargo involved in an accident on the WOODHEAD RD., in close proximity to our water supply not to mention the effect on the communities of GLOSSOP, HADFIELD, TINTWISTLE, HOLLINGWORTH & BROADBOTTOM.

Comment in thelocal paper by Mr. KEITH MILLAR, Engineer in charge at the HYDE office of SIR WILLIAM HALCROW AND PTNS (the civil engineers involved) that "It is a twinkle in somebodys eye at the moment" is to avoid public attention getting too hot. A more accurate comment would be "It is more wool over the public eye at the moment."

The 1971 Highways Act reduced the time for lodging objections to any projected road route from three months to six weeks after publications of the plans. The preparation of grounds for objection must begin now and I do sincerely hope local organisations and their elected representatives will take note.

In 1980 5,953 people were killed on the roads of Britain, 78,806 seriously injured and 241,873 slightly injured. Cost to the tax payer £1,500 million. Whilst most other major killers such as cancer and heart attacks tend to affect the older groups, road accidents kill the young. In Britain as a whole road accidents are by far the major killers of under 35's. In 1980 3,280 people under the age of 35 died as a result of road accidents while cancer claimed 2,507 lives and diseases of the heart and circulatory system claimed 1,299.

In comparison the safety record of BRITISH RAIL can only be described as superb.

in 1980 not a single passenger was killed by accident or derailment.

To countenance the closure of a first class rail route such as WOODHEAD in favour of a trunk road, is to sink to the depth of depravity, a malady rife among planners of central and local government whose role is now a highly political one, and whose forecasts specify future 'needs' and justify plundering the community.

Yours faithfully,

Another solicitor

DEAR EYE,

RE: GREATER MANCHESTER LEGAL SERVICES

We refer to your article in September's edition of EYE and the subsequent letter from a local solicitor with regard to same. We find it remarkable that firms in Tameside should be criticised by Greater Manchester Legal Services for apparently failing to provide the necessary facilities.

So far as we and our other colleagues in the profession are concerned, facilities are available for disabled people and many of the firms do have ground floor entrances which would appear to overcome the problems mentioned in your article. We would not normally write a letter of this nature to you were it not for the fact that so far as we are aware no person from Greater Manchester Legal Services took the trouble to inspect either our offices or the offices of any other firms in Tameside. Most of the firms in Tameside offer a wide range of services and so far as we are aware readily agree to home visits and the like if and where necessary.

Yours faithfully

EYE REPLY: LEGAL SERVICES survey of access for disabled people was conducted by questionaires sent out to all the local solicitors on the Legal Aid List. You were not sent a survey form as you were not on that list at the time.

Giant organs

DEAR EYE,

I wonder if any of your readers might be interested in forming a group with a view to setting up a clinic for men who are'healthy'.
I feel that little is known about this condition, and many men, like my - self, muddle through life with no help at all.
In fact, my own G.P., having told me I was 'healthy' said quite openly that he could do no more for me.

There are many problems that could be dealt with in the context of such a clinic, not least among which is that of 'facial hair image'.
There is considerable media pressure on 'healthy' men to have a plentiful and strong growth of facial hair.
A man whose facial hair is sparse and slow-growing experiences feelings of inadequacy and self doubt. This media pressure could be countered within a clinic, where healthy men with sparse facial hair could openly discuss the problem in a 'workshop' situation.

The root problems for 'healthy' men are however 'penis-size-related problems (or P.S.R.).
Everywhere he goes the healthy man is confronted with virile male images, many of them with socks stuffed down their jeans to simulate giant organs. Therefore in his approaches to women he feels constrained by the fear that his own apparatus may not be up to scratch.
Given the opportunity, in a clinic environment, to make direct comparisons with other 'healthy' men he may find re-assurance.

I do not begrudge Tameside's 'well' women the countless benefits they must derive from attending clinics. My own life-partner goes three times a week while I engage our four children in life-skills development sessions, and she returns most refreshed.
It seems healthy men are being discriminated against here.
Fraternally yours.

Hallo Readers!

Just how low will Williamson, upstart Editor of that once proud local newspaper The Reporter, sink in his undignified efforts to sell more copies ?

It has come to my attention that he intends to print an article featuring that loathsome lefty rag TAMESIDE EYE and that he actually ordered a poor cub reporter to go out and interview the subversive Trotskyite anarchists who hide behind this excremental lie-sheet.

An aquaintance of mine swears that he overheard the interview taking place in a Hyde hostelry rejoicing in the name "The Cheshire Ring" only last week. If only he had succeeded in staying the landlords hand a little longer he might have been able to reveal to me just what passed between the unfortunate youth from the Reporter and those cunning, commie scribblers, but it was not to be. The landlord booted my friend out into the night, pausing only to return to him his trousers and the offending balloon.

Surely I can rely on McAlinden, boss of the Reporter, to ensure that this feature never appears in his hitherto blameless and upright newspaper. It will be a sad day for Tameside if he does not.

DAY TRIPS

DAISY NOOK COUNTRY PARK
Somewhere to walk, somewhere where to fish, somewhere to ride horses; Daisy Nook is all of these. It lies between Ashton and Failsworth, and consists of part of the valley of the river Medlock.There are large expanses of woodland and grassland on both sides of the river.In addition there are some stretches of canal (long-disused) running through the park these have been cleaned and the water made to flow.

Well-maintained footpaths abound in the park,including the towpaths which run beside the canal. For horse riders there is a sizeable network of bridle-paths, kept separate from the foot paths.In addition there are three lakes connected to the canal, and these can be used either for fishing or for sailing model boats.

Refreshments can be had from a cafe across the road from the largest of these, Crime Lake.
The park is full of flowers and birds, and has a variety of trees. Many of the trees were planted by a local traveller who lived in Riversvale House, which stood in the valley until 1948.

Daisy Nook Country Park is administered by the Medlock Valley Warden Service, which in turn is sponsored by the various local authorities in the area. The Wardens organise several activities in the summer months. Of these some are conducted rambles held on Sundays or in the evenings and centre around a particular topic such as the history or geology of the area.Some of the activities are especially designed for children, such as the 'pond dip'.

The park can be reached from Newmarket Road or Oldham Road.At both these sites there are good car parks.The following buses pass the entrance to the park; 209 and 346 on Newmarket Road, and 409 and 410 at Bardsley Bridge on Oldham Road.
